Independent auditor's report on the annual accounts

To the shareholders of Faifey Invest SOCIMI, S.A.:

Opinion

We have audited the annual accounts of Faifey Invest SOCIMI, S.A. (the Company), which comprise the balance sheet as at 31 December 2022, and the income statement, statement of changes in equity, cash flow statement and related notes for the year then ended.

In our opinion, the accompanying annual accounts present fairly, in all material respects, the equity and financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2022, as well as its financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with the applicable financial reporting framework (as identified in note 2 of the notes to the annual accounts), and in particular, with the accounting principles and criteria included therein.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with legislation governing the audit practice in Spain. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the annual accounts section of our report.

We are independent of the Company in accordance with the ethical requirements, including those relating to independence, that are relevant to our audit of the annual accounts in Spain, in accordance with legislation governing the audit practice. In this regard, we have not rendered services other than those relating to the audit of the accounts, and situations or circumstances have not arisen that, in accordance with the provisions of the aforementioned legislation, have affected our necessary independence such that it has been compromised.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Most relevant aspects of the audit

The most relevant aspects of the audit are those that, in our professional judgment, were considered to be the most significant risks of material misstatement in our audit of the annual accounts of the current period. These risks were addressed in the context of our audit of the annual accounts as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these risks.

Most relevant aspects of the audit	How our audit addressed the most relevant aspects of the audit
Measurement of equity instruments in group companies The Company holds two equity investments in group companies amounting to 103 million euros, as outlined in note 5.2 to the annual accounts. This heading represents approximately 98% of the Company's total assets. Investments are initially measured at cost, which agrees with the fair value of the consideration received. Subsequently, investments are measured at cost less, if appropriate, the accumulated amount of impairment adjustments, as outlined in notes 4.1.c) and 2.4 to the annual accounts. At 31 December 2022 the Company recognised 4.7 million euros in respect of the reversal of impairment on investments in equity instruments of group companies. These adjustments are calculated as the difference between the carrying amount and recoverable amount, understood as the higher of fair value less costs to sell and the present value of future cash flows from the investment. Unless there is better evidence of the recoverable amount, the investee's equity is taken into account, adjusted for any latent capital gains existing at the measurement date, net of the tax effect. In order to calculate latent capital gains, the Company has used the market value of the real estate assets of those group companies provided by an independent expert. We consider the measurement of investments in group companies a key audit matter largely due to its significance with respect to the annual accounts as a whole and the fact that there is an inherent risk associated with the measurement of these investments.	In relation to our analysis of the recovery of the value of investments in Group companies, we used our knowledge to conclude whether the value and the assumptions employed by management are appropriate. In particular: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We compared the cost of the investees with the results and reserves relating to each investment and their evolution with respect to the previous year. • We confirmed the reasonableness of the latent capital gains resulting from the valuation of the real estate assets carried out by independent experts and verified the arithmetic calculations. Additionally, we evaluated the sufficiency of the information disclosed in the Company's annual accounts. The results of the procedures performed have enabled the audit objectives for which such procedures were designed to be reasonably attained.

Other information: Management report

Other information comprises only the management report for the 2022 financial year, the formulation of which is the responsibility of the Company's directors and does not form an integral part of the annual accounts.

Our audit opinion on the annual accounts does not cover the management report. Our responsibility regarding the management report, in accordance with legislation governing the audit practice, is to evaluate and report on the consistency between the management report and the annual accounts as a result of our knowledge of the entity obtained during the audit of the aforementioned financial statements, as well as to evaluate and report on whether the content and presentation of the management report is in accordance with applicable regulations. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that material misstatements exist, we are required to report that fact.

On the basis of the work performed, as described in the previous paragraph, the information contained in the management report is consistent with that contained in the annual accounts for the 2022 financial year, and its content and presentation are in accordance with the applicable regulations.

Responsibility of the directors for the annual accounts

The directors are responsible for the preparation of the accompanying annual accounts, such that they fairly present the equity, financial position and financial performance of the Company, in accordance with the financial reporting framework applicable to the entity in Spain, and for such internal control as the aforementioned directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of annual accounts that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the annual accounts, the directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the annual accounts

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the annual accounts as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with legislation governing the audit practice in Spain will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these annual accounts.

As part of an audit in accordance with legislation governing the audit practice in Spain, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the annual accounts, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the annual accounts or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

Faifey Invest SOCIMI, S.A.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the annual accounts, including the disclosures, and whether the annual accounts represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the entity's directors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

From the significant risks communicated with the entity's directors, we determine those risks that were of most significance in the audit of the annual accounts of the current period and are, therefore, considered to be the most significant risks.

We describe these risks in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter.

The annual accounts were prepared on the basis of the 2022 accounting records. The annual accounts for 2022 were prepared in accordance with current commercial legislation and with the standards established in the previous section, in order to faithfully represent the Group's equity and financial position as of December 31, 2022, the profit/(loss) from its operations, changes in equity and cash flows for the year ended on this date.

2.3. Non-mandatory accounting principles applied

No non-mandatory accounting principles have been applied.

FAIFEY INVEST SOCIMI, S.A.

2.4. Critical aspects of valuation and estimation of relevant uncertainties and judgments in the application of accounting policies

The preparation of the annual accounts requires the application of significant accounting estimates and the making of judgments, estimates, and assumptions in the process of applying the Company's accounting policies. A breakdown of the aspects that have involved a greater degree of judgment or complexity, or in which the assumptions and estimates are significant for the preparation of the annual accounts is summarized below.

In preparing the accompanying financial statements, estimates made by the Board of Directors have been used to value some of the assets, liabilities, income, expense, and commitments reported herein. The estimates and criteria considered critical in the interpretation of the financial statements refer mainly to the following aspects:

Impairment of investment in group and associated companies:

There is objective evidence that equity instruments are impaired when, after initial recognition, an event or combination of events occurs that implies that their carrying amount will not be recoverable due to a prolonged or significant decline in their fair value.

Investments are initially measured at cost, which corresponds to the fair value of the consideration received. Subsequently, the investments are valued at cost, less the accumulated amount of impairment losses, if applicable.

These adjustments are calculated as the difference between their carrying and recoverable amounts, understood as the higher of the fair value of the asset less costs to sell and the present value of future cash flows from the investment. Unless there is better evidence of the recoverable amount, the equity of the investee is taken into consideration, adjusted by the unrealized gains existing at the valuation date, net of the tax effect.

2.5. Comparison of information

The annual accounts are presented, for comparative purposes, with the figures for the previous year for each of the items of the balance sheet, profit and loss account, statement of changes in net equity, cash flow statement, and notes to the annual accounts, in addition to the figures for 2022 and which formed part of the annual accounts of the 2021 financial year approved by the Shareholders in their General Meeting on May 27, 2022.

2.6. Item grouping

Certain items in the balance sheet, income statement, statement of changes in net equity, recognized income and expenses statement, and cash flow statement are presented in groups to facilitate their understanding, although, to the extent it is significant, the information is disclosed in the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

2.7. Elements included under various items

There are no assets and liabilities that are recorded or included in two or more balance sheet items.

2.8. Impact of the war in Ukraine:

On February 24, 2022, the Russian government launched a military invasion of Ukraine. In response to this military action, many countries imposed significant economic sanctions against Russia. These were subsequently joined by a growing number of prestigious public and private companies that voluntarily took steps to limit business activities with Russia. Gradual and additional sanctions, including limits on oil and gas prices, continued throughout 2022 and on to the present date.

FAIFEY INVEST SOCIMI, S.A.

Notes to the Annual Accounts for the year 2022 (in euros)

The ongoing conflict in Ukraine and related events take place at a time of substantial global economic uncertainty and volatility, the effects of which are likely to interact with and even exacerbate current market conditions. This situation continues to have a considerable impact on the economy and on business that needs to be assessed.

The consequences of this ongoing crisis are considered as an event for which no effects were recorded in the 2022 annual accounts.

Although a detailed and reliable estimate of the current and future impact of this crisis on the Company at the date of preparation of the financial statements cannot be made, corporate management has made an assessment of the situation and no significant consequences for the Company's business are expected.

4. RECORDING AND VALUATION RULES

4.1. Financial instruments

Financial assets

Classification and valuation

FAIFEY INVEST SOCIMI, S.A.

Notes to the Annual Accounts for the year 2022 (in euros)

4.1. a) Financial assets at fair value through profit and loss

This category includes equity instruments that are neither held for trading nor are to be measured at cost, and for which an irrevocable choice was made at the time of initial recognition to present subsequent changes in fair value directly in equity.

In addition, financial assets irrevocably designated at initial recognition as measured at fair value through profit or loss, and which otherwise would have been included in another category, are included to eliminate or significantly reduce the valuation inconsistency or accounting asymmetry that would otherwise arise from valuing assets or liabilities on different bases.

Initial assessment

Financial assets included in this category are initially measured at fair value, which, unless there is evidence to the contrary, is the transaction price, which is equivalent to the fair value of the consideration given. Transaction costs directly attributable thereto are recognized in the income statement for the year.

Subsequent valuation

After initial recognition, the Company will measure the financial assets included in this category at fair value through profit or loss.

4.1. b) Financial assets at amortized cost

This category includes those financial assets, including those admitted to trading on an organized market, in which the Company holds an investment with the objective of receiving the cash flows arising from the execution of the contract, and for which the contractual conditions of the financial asset give rise, on specified dates, to cash flows that are solely collections of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Contractual cash flows that are solely collections of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding are inherent in agreements the nature of which is an ordinary or common loan, even if the transaction is agreed at a zero or below-market interest rate.

This category includes receivables from trade operations and receivables from non-trade operations:

a) Trade receivables: financial assets arising from the sale of goods and the rendering of services in connection with the Company's trade operations with deferred payment, and

b) Non-trade receivables: financial assets which, not being equity instruments or derivatives, are not of commercial origin and the collections for which are for a determined or determinable amount, arising from loan or credit transactions granted by the Company.

Initial assessment

Financial assets classified in this category are initially recognized at fair value, which, unless there is evidence to the contrary, will be the transaction price, which will equate to the fair value of the fee provided plus any transaction costs directly attributable thereto.

Nonetheless, trade receivables maturing within one year with no explicit contractual interest rate, as well as advances, dividends receivable, and payments required on equity instruments, the amount of which is expected to be received in the short term, are measured at their nominal value to the extent that the effect of not updating the cash flows is not considered to be material.

Subsequent valuation

FAIFEY INVEST SOCIMI, S.A.

Notes to the Annual Accounts for the year 2022 (in euros)

Financial assets included in this category are valued at amortized cost. Accrued interest is recognized in the profit and loss account using the effective interest rate method.

However, loans maturing in less than one year which, in accordance with the provisions of the preceding paragraph, are initially valued at their nominal value, continue to be valued at that amount, unless they have been impaired.

When the contractual cash flows of a financial asset change due to the issuer's financial difficulties, the company analyzes whether an impairment loss should be recognized.

Impairment

The necessary valuation adjustments are made, at least at closing and whenever there is objective evidence that the value of a financial asset, or a group of financial assets with similar risk characteristics valued collectively, has deteriorated as a result of one or more events occurring after initial recognition that cause a reduction or delay in the estimated future cash flows, which may be caused by the debtor's insolvency.

In general, the impairment loss on these financial assets is the difference between their carrying amount and the present value of future cash flows, including, if applicable, those from the execution of real and personal guarantees expected to be generated, discounted at the effective interest rate calculated at the time of initial recognition. For financial assets at variable interest rates, the effective interest rate that corresponds to the closing date of the annual accounts according to the contractual conditions is used. Models based on formulas or statistical methods are used in the calculation of impairment losses for the group of financial assets, specifically.

Impairment losses, as well as their reversal when the amount of said loss decreases due to a subsequent event, are recognized as an expense or income, respectively, in the income statement. The reversal of impairment is limited to the carrying amount of the asset recognized on the date of reversal if the impairment has not been recorded.

4.1.c) Financial assets at cost

In any case, the following are included in this valuation category:

- a) Investments in the equity of Group companies, jointly controlled entities, and associates.
- b) Other investments in equity instruments, the fair value of which cannot be determined by reference to a quoted price in an active market for an identical instrument, or cannot be reliably estimated, and the derivatives underlying these investments.
- c) Hybrid financial assets, the fair value of which cannot be reliably estimated unless the requirements for accounting at amortized cost are met.
- d) Contributions made as a result of a joint venture agreements and similar.
- e) Equity loans, the interest of which is of a contingent nature, either because a fixed or variable interest rate is agreed upon on the condition of the fulfillment of a milestone in the borrower company (for example, the obtaining of profit) or because it is calculated exclusively through reference to the evolution of the borrower company's activity.
- f) Any other financial asset that should initially be classified in the fair value through profit and loss account portfolio, when it is not possible to obtain a reliable estimate of its fair value.

Initial assessment

FAIFEY INVEST SOCIMI, S.A.

Notes to the Annual Accounts for the year 2022 (in euros)

Investments included in this category are initially valued at cost, which is equivalent to the fair value of the consideration given plus directly attributable transaction costs, the latter not being included in the cost of investment in group companies.

However, in cases in which there is investment prior to its classification as a group company, jointly-controlled entity, or associate, the cost of such investment is considered to be the book value that the investment should have had immediately before the company was classified as such.

The initial valuation includes the amount of any preemptive subscription rights and similar rights that may have been acquired.

Subsequent valuation

Equity instruments included in this category are valued at cost, less any accumulated impairment losses.

When these assets must be assigned value due to derecognition or other reasons, the weighted average cost method is applied by groups of similar assets, these being understood to be those with equal rights.

In the case of the sale of preemptive subscription rights and similar rights, or their segregation to exercise these, the amount of the cost of the rights decreases the book value of the respective assets.

Contributions made as a result of a contract of participation accounts and similar shall be valued at cost, plus or minus the profit or loss, respectively, corresponding to the company as a non-managing participant, and less the accumulated amount of valuation adjustments for impairment, if applicable.

The same criterion is applied to participating loans the interest of which is contingent, either because a fixed or variable interest rate is agreed on the condition of the achievement of a milestone in the borrower company (for example, the obtaining of profit), or because it is calculated exclusively through reference to the performance of the borrower company's business. If irrevocable fixed interest is agreed in addition to contingent interest, the latter is recognized as financial income on an accrual basis. Transaction costs are charged to the income statement on a straight-line basis over the life span of the participating loan.

Impairment of financial assets

At least at year-end, the necessary valuation adjustments are made whenever there is objective evidence that the carrying amount of an investment will not be recoverable. The amount of the valuation adjustment is the difference between its carrying value and the recoverable amount, understood as the higher of its fair value less costs to sell and the present value of the future cash flows derived from the investment, which in the case of equity instruments is calculated either by estimating those expected to be received as a result of the distribution of dividends by the investee and the disposal or derecognition of the investment in the investee, or by estimating its share of the cash flows expected to be generated by the investee, both from its ordinary activities and from its disposal or derecognition.

Unless there is better evidence of the recoverable amount of investments in equity instruments, the estimate of the impairment loss on this type of asset is calculated on the basis of the equity of the investee and the unrealized gains existing at the valuation date, net of the tax effect. In determining this value, and provided the investee has in turn invested in another investee, the net worth included in the consolidated financial statements prepared by applying the criteria of the Commercial Code and its implementing regulations is taken into account.

4.1 d) Financial liabilities at amortized cost

Debits for trade and non-trade transactions are generally included in this category:

- a) Debits for trade transactions: financial liabilities arising from the purchase of goods and services in connection with the Company's trade operations with deferred payment, and

Notes to the Annual Accounts for the year 2022 (in euros)

b) Debits for non-trade transactions: financial liabilities which, not being derivative instruments, do not have a commercial origin but which arise from loan or credit transactions received by the Company.

Equity loans that have the characteristics of an ordinary or common loan are also included in this category, without prejudice to any agreed interest rate (0% interest or at a level below the market rate).

Initial assessment

Financial liabilities included in this category are initially recognized at fair value, which is the transaction price, which will equate to the fair value of the fee received adjusted for any transaction costs directly attributable thereto.

However, trade payables maturing within one year that do not bear contractual interest rates, as well as payments required by third parties in respect of shareholdings, the amount of which is expected to be paid in the short term, are measured at their nominal value, when the effect of not discounting the cash flows is not significant.

Subsequent valuation

Financial liabilities included in this category are valued at amortized cost. Accrued interest is recognized in the profit and loss account using the effective interest rate method.

However, debits maturing in less than one year that were initially assessed at their nominal value continue to be valued at that amount.

In the case of a renegotiation of an existing debt, no significant modification of the financial liability is deemed to exist where the lender of the new loan is the same as the lender of the original loan and the present value of the cash flows, including net fees, does not differ by more than 10% from the present value of the outstanding cash flows of the original liability calculated under the same method.

4.2. Corporation tax

Income tax expenses or income comprises both current tax and deferred tax.

Current income tax assets or liabilities are measured at the amounts expected to be paid to or recovered from the taxation authorities, using the tax rates and regulations in force or approved and pending publication at the reporting date.

Current or deferred income tax is recognized in profit or loss, unless it arises from a transaction or economic event that has been recognized in the same or a different period, against equity or from a business combination.

Recognition of deferred tax liabilities

The Company recognizes deferred tax liabilities in all cases, except where they arise from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and at the date of the transaction affects neither accounting profit nor taxable profit.

Recognition of deferred tax assets

The Company recognizes deferred tax assets whenever it is probable that sufficient future taxable profit will be available against which they can be utilized or when tax legislation sets out the possibility of future conversion of deferred tax assets into a receivable from the tax authorities.

The Company recognizes the conversion of a deferred tax asset into a receivable from the tax authorities when it is receivable in accordance with current tax legislation. For these purposes, the deferred tax asset is derecognized with a charge to the deferred income tax expense and the account receivable with a credit to current income tax. Similarly, the Company recognizes the exchange of a deferred tax asset for government debt securities when ownership of these securities is acquired.

FAIFEY INVEST SOCIMI, S.A.

Notes to the Annual Accounts for the year 2022 (in euros)

The Company recognizes the payment obligation arising from capital contributions as an operating expense with a credit to the debt with the Tax Authorities when this is accrued in accordance with the Corporate Income Tax Law.

However, assets arising from the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and at the date of the transaction affects neither accounting profit nor taxable profit are not recognized.

Unless there is evidence to the contrary, it is not considered probable that the Company will have future taxable profits when their future recovery is expected to take place more than ten years from the year-end date, regardless of the nature of the deferred tax asset, or in the case of tax credits and other tax benefits not yet available for tax purposes due to insufficient taxable profit, when the activity has been performed or the income has been obtained that gives rise to the right to the tax credit or tax relief and there are reasonable doubts as to whether the requirements for taking the tax credit or tax relief have been met.

The Company only recognizes deferred tax assets arising from tax loss carryforwards to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be utilized within a period not exceeding that established by the applicable tax legislation, with a maximum limit of ten years, unless there is evidence that their recovery is probable within a longer period, when the tax legislation allows them to be utilized within a longer period or does not establish any time limit on their offsetting.

On the other hand, it is considered probable that the Company has sufficient taxable profits to recover the deferred tax assets, provided that there are sufficient taxable temporary differences relating to the same tax authority and referring to the same taxpayer, the reversal of which is expected in the same tax year in which the deductible temporary differences are expected to reverse or in years in which a tax loss arising from a deductible temporary difference can be offset against earlier or later profits.

The Company recognizes deferred tax assets that have not been recognized because they exceed the ten-year recovery period, to the extent that the future reversal period does not exceed ten years from the year-end date or when there are sufficient taxable temporary differences.

In determining future taxable profits, the Company takes into account tax planning opportunities where it intends to take or is likely to take them.

Offsetting and classification

The Company only offsets income tax assets and liabilities if it has a legal right to offset them with the tax authorities and intends to either settle the resulting amounts on a net basis or realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized on the balance sheet as non-current assets or liabilities, irrespective of the expected date of realization or settlement.

4.3. Income and Expenditure

Income and expenditure is recognized on an accrual basis, i.e. when the actual flow of the related goods and services occurs, regardless of when the resulting monetary or financial flow arises. This revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received, net of discounts and taxes.

The Company includes the interest incorporated into trade receivables maturing in less than one year that do not have a contractual interest rate when the effect of not updating the cash flows is not significant. Interest received on financial assets is recognized using the effective interest method and dividends are recognized when the Company's right to receive them is declared. In any case, interest and dividends on financial assets accrued after the time of acquisition are recognized as income on the income statement.

FAIFEY INVEST SOCIMI, S.A.

Notes to the Annual Accounts for the year 2022 (in euros)

a) Interest income

Interest income from financial assets measured at amortized cost is recognized using the effective interest rate method. When a receivable is impaired, the Company reduces the carrying amount to its recoverable amount by discounting the estimated future cash flows at the instrument's original effective interest rate, and continues to carry the discount as a reduction in interest income. Interest income on impaired loans is recognized using the effective interest rate method.

b) Dividend income

Dividend income is recognized as income in the income statement when the right to receive payment is established, provided that, since the date of acquisition, the investee or any group company in which the investee has an interest has generated profit in excess of the shareholders' equity to be distributed. Notwithstanding the foregoing, If the dividends distributed unequivocally come from results generated prior to the acquisition date because amounts in excess of the profit generated by the investee since the acquisition have been distributed, these are not recognized as income, and they reduce the carrying amount of the investment.

4.4. Net worth

The share capital is represented by common shares.

The costs of issuing new shares or options are shown directly against equity as a reduction in reserves.

4.5. Transactions with related parties

Transactions between Group companies, except those related to mergers, spin-offs, and non-monetary contributions to businesses, are recognized at the fair value of the consideration given or received. The difference between this value and the agreed amount is recorded in accordance with the underlying economic substance.

Qualitative information

The Company's financial risk management is centralized within the Finance Department, which has established the necessary mechanisms to control exposure to interest rate and exchange rate fluctuations, as well as to credit and liquidity risks. The main financial risks that affect the Company are indicated below:

a) Credit risk:

In general, the Company keeps its cash and cash equivalents in financial institutions with high credit ratings. Additionally, there is no significant concentration in the volume of client transactions.

b) Liquidity risk:

In order to ensure liquidity and be able to meet all payment commitments arising from its activity, the Company has the cash and cash equivalents shown on its balance sheet.

c) Market risk (including interest rate, exchange rate, and other price risks):

Both the Company's cash and financial debt are exposed to interest rate risk, which could have an adverse effect on financial results and cash flows.

Quantitative information

The maximum exposure to major risks as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, excluding foreign exchange exposure, was as follows:

It cannot be distributed and if it is used to offset losses, in the event that there are not sufficient other reserves available for this purpose, it must be replenished with future profits.

	Credit balances	Credit balances
Withholdings made	8,335.92	4,931.54
Other debts with Tax Authorities	8,335.92	4,931.54

Under current legislation, taxes cannot be considered definitively settled until the returns submitted have been inspected by the tax authorities or the four-year statute of limitations period has elapsed. As of December 31, 2022, the Company had all the financial years of the main taxes applicable to it pending inspection by the tax authorities from the following years:

	Financial year
Value Added Tax	2019-2022
Corporate Tax	2019-2022

However, the right of the tax authorities to check or investigate tax losses offset or pending offsetting, double taxation tax credit, and tax credit to encourage the performing of certain activities applied or pending application expires after 10 years from the day following the end of the period established for the submission of the tax return or self-assessment corresponding to the tax period in which the right to offset or apply these arose. Once this period has elapsed, the Company must provide evidence of the negative tax bases or deductions by showing the tax return or self-assessment together with the accounts, with proof of the submission thereof to the Commercial Registry during the aforementioned period.

As a result, among other things, the different possible interpretations of current tax legislation could result in additional liabilities in the event of an inspection. In any case, the parent company's Board of Directors considers that these liabilities, should they arise, would not have a material effect on the annual accounts.
